BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.
Miss Minnie Clements Reminded by Her Friends that She is Her Own Maid.

It is sometimes apparently regretted that a person can only have one birthday in a year. The effect in birthdays are a rare occurrence—so far apart, that persons, who infrequently forget when their own anniversary comes around. But old days, the young folks have a pleasant and altogether agreeable fashion of reminding their friends of the recurring, of such an event. Sometimes they put it in the form of a surprise, which turns out very pleasantly, after the surprise has abated, or the victim has had a little time for the surprise to wear off.

Miss Minnie Clements, daughter of Mr. E. T. Clements, the worthy postmaster at Blue Mound, was a creature of one of these pleasant circumstances on Wednesday evening, and it was her eighteenth milestone on life's journey, when she met the issue with combined maiden modesty and true womanly fortitude and courage, and made the occasion a most pleasant and enjoyable one for all who had the good fortune to be present.

Unmindful of the fact that it was a day worthy of commemoration, she had gone to prayer meeting in the evening, and while out her friends completed their plans and were on hand in force to welcome and congratulate her on her return. There were about twenty couples present, and they had paliated the embarrassment and surprise of Miss Minnie in glowing colors—in themselves! But the young lady was equal to the emergency, and she received the good wishes and compliments of her friends in queenly style, and expressed her gratitude and thankfulness for the honor conferred in a manner worthy of a grand duchess.

The company were very pleasantly entertained, refreshments were served and partaken of, and the evening spent in games, music, and social enjoyment, concluding with a real old time taffy pulling. The fun was kept up until a late—or rather early—hour, and all present will long remember the occasion as one of the most enjoyable in which they ever participated.

Miss Clement is a very estimable young lady, intelligent and highly esteemed by all who have the pleasure of her acquaintance, and the enterprise was but an expression of the high regard in which she is held in the city of her home.

The Friend of the Newsboy.

Our city was favored yesterday, with a visit from Col. Alex. Hogeland, the friend of the poor boys and youths. The Colonel comes to us with the hearty endorsement of the press and educators, and last evening he addressed a large concourse of citizens and youths at the corner of Prairie and Merchant streets, his talk being a history of his mission and its results. Few persons seem to understand so well as Col. H. how to favorably impress and profitably instruct the boys of a city. He teaches them manliness, self-reliance, and self-respect, and his efforts in all the cities he has visited have been crowned with much success. There was a short procession of boys of all classes preceding the lecture, who cheered lustily at various points on their line of march, and the little fellows enjoyed the novelty of the thing highly.

Col. Hogeland's lecture abounded in good advice to boys and hints to parents that should be heeded. He has given many years of valuable time to the "Arabs" and "street gamblers" of our cities, asking no pay for his services, and not even taking up a collection from the large throngs that frequently listen to him, and would cheerfully contribute were they asked. His expenses are borne by the sale of "Ten Years Among the News Boys," a very interesting book of which he is the author. It is a very readable work, and worthy to be put in the hands of children by their parents. It is replete with interesting and instructive stories in boy and girl life, truthfully and pleasantly told. He will remain in the city but a day or two, in furtherance of the work of his mission, one feature of which is the procuring of good homes for homeless and friendless boys.

Hosiery, Corsets, Laces and Ladies' Muslin Underwear, in quantities and varieties unsurpassed in the city. Our prices are readily lower than those asked for similar goods elsewhere.

MOHLER'S SPINNING WHEEL.

Concerning One Article that was Not For Sale, and Another which is Cheap at Any Price.

"No sir, I wouldn't tell you that for any money. That spinning wheel was my mother's. It was one day, when she was singing a lark and making this old wheel hum, that my father, then a young medical student, afterwards a surgeon, fell in love with her—some fifteen years ago. So spoke the proprietor of a rough bit of farm land in Ulster County, N. Y., to a rule-bender, and 'mother's' spinning wheel remained among her children and grandchildren.

"My mother," wrote Rev. J. W. Phelps, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. Church, Chicago, has used Parker's Tone, and wishes me to say that she has found it more effective than anything she ever used for invigorating and strengthening the eye, debilitated by ulcerin. She desires me also especially to mention the certainty with which it aids digestion and overcomes constipation.

Ever since the first household was established "mother's" opinion has been a more potent in this world than that of judge, jurist, physician, ororhand and child. It indicates material poison from the blood, from which there is now said wide-spread suffering.

Please observe: Dr. Parker's Tone is not an intoxicant. It is a combination of several ingredients, of which none singly can produce any thing like its effect. For kidney, stomach and liver trouble, it is the standard and comforting remedy. In two sizes: 50 cents and $1. The latter the cheaper. Hixox & Co., Chemists, New York.

Nursery Stock.

S. Bonham, proprietor of the Friends' Creek nursery, will next week, weather permitting, bring a cart load of fruit, evergreen, shade and ornamental trees, hedge plants, roses, flowering bulbs, etc., to his stand east of Linn & Scruggs' store, in the city, to be sold at reasonable rates. 20&w. & w.

BARGAIN TRANSFERRED.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The nomination of Surgeon as Minister to Russia was a total surprise to most persons at the capital. It was not delivered to the Senate until Secretary Frothingham had spent an hour or more at the capitol for the purpose, it is conjectured, of preparing leading members of that body for its reception. When it was laid before the Senate in executive session, a few questions were asked and briefly answered to the effect that the transfer, though not requested, or even suggested by Minister Sergeant, would doubtless be agreeable to him, and would also undoubtedly be productive of good results as a matter of National policy, although in what manner was not stated nor asked, as the Senate thereupon accepting the assurances of the members of the Foreign Relations Committee confirmed the nomination by unanimous consent.

There is reason for believing that the action of the Senate was based not only upon the belief that Sergeant's transfer (which, in European estimation, is a diplomatic promotion) would be agreeable to him and assist the possibility of further unpleasantness arising from personal hostilities, but also upon the prevalent impression that the position of American Minister at the Court of Berlin would significantly and for an indefinite time be left vacant.

Secretary Frothingham sent the following telegram to Minister Sergeant last evening:

Surgeon, Minister Berlin

The President approves entire of your cable to me. You have done nothing but obey the instructions of this Government therein. The President, thinking it may be agreeable to you, has now invited you to be Minister to Poland. Your nomination without reference to my committee was immediately and unanimously confirmed by the American Senate. This action augments the appreciation of your worth and it can be no honor of which an citizen may well be proud.

FROTHINGHAM, ARTHUR ANNIES TO HAVE A NAVY.

President Arthur sent to Congress yesterday a message in regard to appropriations for the construction of naval vessels. He says that he deems it his duty to advise an appropriation at the present session toward constructing at least three additional steel cruisers and four gunboats, the total cost of which will not exceed $42,280,000. The Chicago, Boston, Atlanta and Dolphin are being built with care, and there is every reason to believe they will prove serviceable modern cruisers. Any restriction Congress may impose as to designs and honest construction will be acceptable to the President. Appropriations are also asked for finishing the four double-turreted monitors, and securing their armament at the earliest practicable moment. A sum not exceeding $2,838,769, including $864,725 for rifled cannon, will equip them for service. They will not be matched for the heavy ironclads of Europe, but will fully answer immediate necessities.

NORTHERN PACIFIC DID NOT DO ITS DUTY.

In his report to accompany the bill defining forfeited the unearned land grant of the Northern Pacific Railway, Representative Henley says that the Committee on Public Lands is satisfied that the grant was made upon the condition that the entire line should be completed July 4, 1870.

The lands lying along the uncompleted section of the road were therefore subject to forfeiture after that date, and Justice demands that all such lands should be returned to the public domain.

CONVENTIONS.

The President sent to the Senate the following nomination: Robert J. Clayton of Georgia, to be Consul of the United States at Paris; John L. Biss, to be postmaster at Ottawa, Kan.

KILBURN GAINS HIS SUIT.

In the case of Hilliard Kilburne against ex-Sergeant-at-Arms Thompson the jury rendered a verdict in favor of Kilburne for $27,000.

STILL DEMATING THE EDUCATIONAL BILL.

The Senate yesterday passed the bill providing for the abolition of high in several cities, and the extension of State and Territorial laws to the Indians after Mr. Dodge's amendment providing that the purchase price of the surplus public lands in Indian country should be paid to the Indians after twenty-five years the principal in the meaning to be deposited in the Treasury to the credit of the Indians, and the interest to be paid to the Indians. The bill was again taken up. Mr. Vance said that it was humiliating to him to bear his State taunted with inferiority by the people of the West, and that a State that had not sacrificed even its independence when slavery was found impracticable in Massachusetts, that State had sold its slaves to the South, and then thanked God for the sale of slaves. From an reply quoted from Mr. Vance's speech of a few days ago, and inquired whether there was any other Southern Senator who was willing to meet so much opposition to the bill as Mr. Dodge. Mr. Vance had given. Mr. Jones denied emphatically that the Southern people had any prejudice against the colored people, with whom they were friendly, and almost equal. They controlled the elections in some sections for the Democratic party by voting freely and fairly. He wanted to see the colored men educated and he hoped the day would come when they would be able to vote.

TAKING EVERYTHING IT TOUCHED.

BELMONT, Ky., March 27.—The greatest calamity that ever befell this section occurred Tuesday evening about one mile from this place. A tornado struck the village of Colemanville, and utterly wiped it out of existence, after which it passed over Mount Nebo several miles east, and left hardly a house standing. From there the cyclone passed on to Antioch, Snakelake and Conroy, doing in these places more or less damage. About four o'clock the oppressive atmospheric and gathering clouds gave evidence of an approaching storm and a light rain began to fall. This gave way to hail, which poured down like shot, accompanied by high winds. The latter increased in fury until it formed a cyclone which struck Colemanville full on the southwestern side, and in a few moments had almost obliterated the town from existence. Every one either ran into the street or sought refuge in cellars, and many were injured by falling timbers, which dropped around in all directions. In the midst of the storm a Mrs. A. H. Lail rushed out of the house with her infant, three weeks old. The storm tore the child from her arms, while she was blown across the street against a neighbor's house. She was picked up insensible and badly injured, and the baby was found dead two hundred yards distant.

At Conroy, another village, the houses are scattered around promiscuously, and the place, like Colemanville, is almost entirely obliterated. Roots of houses were torn away, trees from an adjoining wood carried into the place, and every house injured. The storm then attacked the dense wood of Thomas Earl, and literally cleared the place, four hundred trees being blown down or carried off. Stake Lick, another small village, is also nearly destroyed, while Clayville, Little Lickland, and other places sustained serious injuries. At the latter place Stew's workshop, a large brick building, is entirely demolished. An almost incredible amount of damage has been done, while the suffering of families rendered homeless is terrible. Fifty families, perhaps more, are seeking what shelter they can, and provisions are very scarce. The path of the cyclone is nearly half a mile wide and extends along the northern portion of Harrison County a distance of fifteen miles. All along this distance can be found remnants of household articles, clothing and fencing. Reports of damage done by the cyclone of yesterday evening pour in from all directions. Barns, stables and sheds in great numbers have been destroyed and the timbers carried along in the terrific breeze for hundreds of yards. Entire orchards and parts of stately forests have been laid waste. It is remarkable how the only two lives have been lost. Coway, the farmer, and Papeno, a small child. Two brothers named Johnston were reported fatally injured in a barn near Rodgerville. Ex-Sheriff Gifford took refuge in a covered bridge. The bridge was struck by lightning and buried one hundred feet in the earth, some of the timbers being carried nearly a quarter of a mile away. Mr. Gifford was buried.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 27.—The storm appears to have covered but a narrow area, but was very destructive. The damage and destruction and vicinity was trifling. At Brightwood, four miles east, a Miss Karbo was so badly injured by falling timber that she will die. In the neighborhood of Connersville a number of houses were unroofed and barns leveled to the earth. The barns and other buildings of the Undergrund farm, south of Connersville, were badly damaged. Two barns belonging to William Robinson, in the same neighborhood, were wrecked and his residence badly damaged. The house of James New Horn was unroofed. The large barn of Daniel Sherry was moved ten feet from its foundation and demolished. The barn of Leonard Petro was also unrooted, as was that of Basil McCann. There are farms in the storm's track which have hardly a fence standing. At Bedford an engine and traveler used for transferring stone from the cars at the Hollowell Granite Company's mills were blown from the track, falling at a distance of about twenty feet upon the track of the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago Railway, causing considerable detention of the south-bound train.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 27.—Patchwork continues to come in regarding Tuesday night's cyclone in this section of the State. At Newton thirty houses were blown down, the Methodist Church was wrecked, and the residences of Rev. Colv Kilian and Charles Jewett swept away. Cline & Williams' flouring mills were partially destroyed. Mary Hunsucker was killed and fourteen persons wounded. Rumors from Lenoir say a whole family were killed. Six ladies are known to have been killed. The telegraph wires are down. At Mecklenburg, five or six residences were destroyed, but no lives were lost. The cyclone also passed through Irrell County, doing great damage to fruits and blowing down many houses.

Crushed by a Falling Safe.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 27.—While a number of the workmen were moving a four-ton safe at the Arsenal Bank, the foundation of the pavement gave way and the safe was precipitated to the cellar beneath, crushing to death George Schudler. The others escaped.

Will Rozen, the Rose Amber Case.

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 27.—It is reported from Birmingham that important revelations may be expected in the Rose Amber case and that an arrest will be soon made on evidence that will insure the holding of the arrested party for trial.

New York's Oleomargarine Law Passed.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 27.—In the Assembly the bill passed regulating the sale of oleomargarine and other substitutes for butter. The main feature is requiring conspicuous posting of notices of the character of the stuff sold.

Coffee Again Weak.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The cables again report coffee weaker. Hayre reports a decline of 2½ to 3 francs. Here prices broke to 30 points, associated with some excitement and a fair degree of activity.

Price 50 cents, at A. J. Stoner's.

RICHMOND, Va., March 27.—All the wharves in the lower part of the city are submerged, and the water is up into Main street and steadily rising. Merchants are removing goods from warehouses near the river. At Columbia, fifty miles above, the water has risen twenty-three inches and is rising five inches an hour. Three trentines have been sent to the city.
